

Cell phones on planes will hinder communication to all passengers on board. Passengers will be more attentive to their cell phone conversations than the ever important safety demonstration. Inconsiderate cell phone users will be too loud and possible fights will ensue between passengers. If a 757 jet had full occupancy and everyone on their cell phones how can we be sure that the navigation systems will not overload. Cell phone use on board in flight is simply NOT a good idea.